About Sino-Singapore Tianjin Eco-City (SSTEC)

The Sino-Singapore Tianjin Eco-City (SSTEC) is the master developer for the Tianjin Eco-City. Currently being incorporated, it is a 50/50 joint venture between the Chinese Consortium led by Tianjin TEDA Investment Holding Co., Ltd (Tianjin TEDA) and the Singapore Consortium led by the Keppel Group.

The Tianjin Eco-City is a landmark bilateral project between China and Singapore with private-sector investment and development. Located in the Tianjin Binhai New Area (40 km away from Tianjin city centre), the 30-sq km Tianjin Eco-City is envisioned to create a harmonious and sustainable community that meets the needs of an urbanising China and will be a modern township where 350,000 residents can live, work and play.

Its eco-business park was recently launched on 3 Jun 09 by Mr Mah Bow Tan, Singapore's Minister for National Development and Mr Huang Xingguo, Deputy Party Secretary of the Communist Party of China (CPC) Tianjin Municipal Committee and Mayor of Tianjin Municipality.

Tianjin Eco-Business Park

With an estimated total investment of RMB2 billion when fully completed in five to six years, the Eco-Business Park is expected to be the base for global eco-businesses in the Tianjin Binhai New Area and the Bohai Rim. This is to serve Northern China's growing need for clean technologies and sustainable urban solutions.

The first of its kind in China, the Eco-Business Park will occupy approximately 30 hectares of land in the Tianjin Eco-City's Start-Up Area and create a 24/7 vibrant and self-sustaining business community. Capitalising on the strategic positioning of the Eco-City, it will attract global clean technology and green R&D companies as well as high value-added services such as business process outsourcing (BPO) companies which have low carbon footprint. When fully completed, the Eco-Business Park is expected to create over 15,000 white collar jobs which will attract new residents and generate more economic spin-offs.
